IMMANUEL LUTHERAN CHURCH 1967

A BRIEF HISTORY OF IMMANUEL LUTHERAN CHURCH, LOST PRAIRIE, ILLINOIS

The story of Immanuel Lutheran Congregation is the story of a dream that became a reality. During the latter half of the nineteenth century, German immigrants yearning for freedom and good soil settled the fertile plains of southern Illinois. The heart of many a pioneer found peace in land and liberty, but others were restless with a vision which could be fulfilled only in the deep freedom of communion with God in worship.

By 1861 a number of Lutheran families had settled in the area known as Lost Prairie, Illinois. Having neither church nor pastor of their own, these Christians received both Word and Sacrament through the ministration of the Rev. H. C. Evers of Wine Hill and worshiped in a Baptist Church and a public school which were in the vicinity. When Pastor Evers accepted a call to Michigan, the Rev. John Doermann of Randolph assumed the pastoral duties. Pastor Doermann urged the Lutherans to organize a Christian congregation, and on March 18, 1867 Philip Kraeft, G. Beck, Sr., J. G. Beck, Jr., Peter Denninger, A. Denninger, Jacob Wildermuth and John Bauersachs signed the new constitution which Pastor Doermann had written. Immanuel Lutheran Church had come into being!

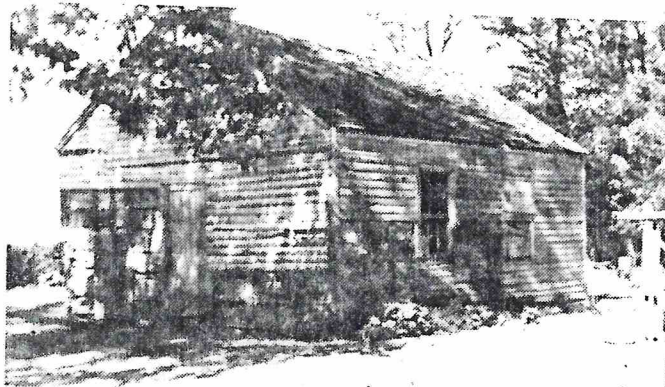

A new era had begun, and now there was work to do. Philip Kraeft gave two acres of ground to the congregation for one dollar, and the members made plans for building a house of worship. They worked through the summer and fall and on into the winter, and on January 12, 1868 they dedicated to the glory of God a new church which had cost them long hours of hard labor and $1256.20. Three years later, in the fall of 1871, the people erected a parsonage.

REV. THOMAS SCHOECH

At long last the time had come when the congregation could call a pastor of its own and hold services regularly. Thomas Schoech, who had preached for the congregation several times while still a student at the Seminary, received the call. On July 29, 1872, Pastor Doermann ordained and installed the young man as first resident pastor of Immanuel Lutheran Church.

Pastor Schoech's ministry was significant in many ways. In 1873 the congregation erected a log school building on a tract of land which they had purchased from the Galum Baptist Church and began holding classes. That same year Pastor Schoech attended the convention of the Missouri Synod, and in 1874 Immanuel congregation became a member of that Synod. Mission work was as important as education, and slowly the membership grew until it reached thirty-two. The congregation raised the pastor's salary from $300 to $350 per year in 1874.

REV. C. W. R. FREDERKING

When Pastor Schoech accepted a call to Michigan in 1876, the congregation granted him a peaceful release and called the Rev. C. W. R. Frederking of Beecher, Illinois to assume the pastoral duties. With the coming of Pastor

GEORGE KRAEFT, one of the men who gave land to the congregation.

Frederking, the congregation entered another phase of its growth and development. This was to be a period of stability in which a succession of pastors would carefully build upon the work of their predecessors. Pastor Frederking's stay was short due to illness in his family. When he received a call to Goodfarm, Illinois in 1879, the congregation granted him a peaceful release.

The Rev. H. H. Holtermann accepted Immanuel's call in 1879 and served faithfully as pastor until his death December 30, 1887. During this pastorate, Synodical Vice-president Wolbrecht visited Immanuel and other congregations in the area. Immanuel members took seriously the privilege and responsibility of voting membership in the congregation, and for this reason they passed a resolution providing for proper action and disciplining if a voter should miss two voters' meetings in a row without a valid excuse. Pastor Holtermann preached his last sermon Christmas eve. By Christmas day he was too ill to lead the congregation in worship. Pneumonia had set in, and on December 30 the Lord called his faithful servant to his crown of glory. With heavy hearts the members buried their pastor in the church cemetery.

REV. H. H. HOLTERMANN

Immanuel turned to the Springfield Seminary for its next pastor. Candidate Gustav Mueller was ordained and installed by his father in the Fall of 1888. In this year, Immanuel had its first Christmas tree in the church and its first Christmas program. A congregation in West Point, Nebraska called Pastor Mueller in 1891, and although Immanuel did not wish to see him leave, they yielded to his insistence and granted him a peaceful release.

Pastor Joseph H. Fischer of Hepler, Kansas took up the pastorate in 1892. The congregation transported him to his new call at the cost of $75.00. Unfortunately Pastor Fischer was in failing health. Constant attention from doctors did not improve the situation, and in the Spring of 1896 he found it necessary to resign as pastor under the blessing of the congregation's peaceful release. Shortly after this he passed away.

REV. G. A. MUELLER

Following a short vacancy, Pastor E. Beil of Hilbert, Wisconsin became pastor of Immanuel. The congregation had continued to grow to forty-five members, and the old church building was entirely too small. Immanuel had to build a new church, but where? Some of the members had moved farther south to the vicinity of Conant, Illinois, and the question arose as to whether to build on the present church property or relocate farther south to accommodate the families living near Conant. Although the majority determined to rebuild on the present property, the minority objected so strongly that they built their own church. These thirteen members were released and formed Trinity congregation at Conant in 1897. Shortly after this unfortunate division, Pastor Beil resigned at Immanuel to accept the call as pastor of Trinity at Conant.

Work on the new church went on uninterrupted despite congregational problems. The original contract was for $1600, but by the time the building was completed with bell and organ the congregation had spent $2031.61. The new house of worship was dedicated September 19, 1897 in two services. Former Pastor Schoech preached in the morning service, and a former vacancy pastor, the Rev. C. Strasen, preached in the afternoon service.

The Rev. Albert Groerich served next as pastor from 1898 until 1904. During this time the congregation served free coffee at a mission festival for the first time, and the congregation built a new parsonage in 1904. When Pastor Groerich accepted a call to Hoyleton, Illinois, Immanuel called the Rev. H. A. Norden of Gillett, Arkansas. In 1907, the congregation built a new school. In August of 1907, Pastor Norden received a call to Howard City, Michigan and was granted a peaceful release.

REV. H. A. NORDEN

Little did the congregation dream that when it called its next pastor, Rev. W. A. Schwermann of Covington, Illinois, they were preparing for the ending of one way of life and the beginning of another era in the history of Immanuel during which worship services would be conducted in English rather than German. Pastor Schwermann came to a congregation of thirty-four members and twenty-seven children in a school, which he taught four days each week. Immanuel celebrated its golden anniversary May 20, 1917. Speakers for this event were Professor Metzger from the St. Louis Seminary, Rev. Fuehler from Hoyleton and Rev. Thomas Schoech, the congregation's first resident pastor. The pastor's salary was raised to $500.00 per year, and in 1918 the monumental decision was made to have English language services on the first Sunday each month. Pastor Schwermann served Immanuel for thirteen years from 1908 until 1921 when he accepted a call to Wisconsin.

REV. MARTIN CLAUSEN

There followed a lengthy vacancy until the Rev. P. H. F. Kuehn came to Immanuel from Litchfield, Illinois in mid-1922. His health forced his resignation in 1925. Candidate Martin H. Clausen was ordained and installed as Immanuel's next pastor in 1925. He served until 1930 when he accepted a call to Eagle Bend and Germania, Minnesota. Once more the congregation turned to a candidate, H. W. Kraft. Pastor Kraft served Immanuel until he resigned from the ministry in 1933. The Rev. Alfred A. Bodtke came to Immanuel from Oklahoma in 1933 and served until he accepted a call to the Lutheran Orphan's Home in Des Peres, Missouri in 1940. Late in 1939, Pastor Bodtke formed a Young People's Society. Congregational minutes were taken in the English language for the first time on May 14, 1939, but it was not until May 11, 1941 that all minutes from then on were taken in English.

REV. H. W. KRAFT

REV. ALFRED A. BODTKE

With the transition to the English language nearing its end, candidate Walter Hoffmann was installed as pastor in the fall of 1940. Immanuel celebrated its seventy-fifth anniversary May 1st, 1942 in three services. Former Pastor A. Bodtke preached in the morning; Professor G. B. Schick from the St. Louis Seminary preached in the afternoon; and former Pastor Martin Claussen preached in the evening. In 1942 the congregation raised the pastor's salary to $900 per year and also decided to enter into the Synod's pension plan for pastors and teachers. In 1943 the pastor's salary was raised another $100, and the congregation decided to add a chancel niche to the church. On several occasions motions were made in voters' meetings to dig a basement under the church building or under parts of it, but all such motions were defeated. When the chancel addition was completed, the entire church was redecorated. Pastor Hoffmann was granted a peaceful release to Manchester, New Hampshire in 1944.

REV. W. HOFFMAN

REV. PAUL MOLL

The Rev. Paul Moll began serving as pastor late in 1945. When it was learned that Pastor Moll had no lawn mower for cutting the grass, one of the members offered his sheep for the job. Pastor Moll began the practice of individual communion announcement in 1947 in order to provide for personal admonition and forgiveness. He was also responsible for beginning a Sunday School in the summer of 1948. Pastor Moll left Immanuel to go to Brussels, Illinois in 1948.

REV. O. D. MEYER

Pastor O. D. Meyer served Immanuel from 1949 until 1951. At first he returned the congregation's call, but when he received it a second time, he accepted. The congregation installed the water system in the parsonage in 1949, and in 1951 a dial phone made its way into the parsonage. By 1950 the number of children attending the congregation's school had grown quite small, and the burden of teaching in addition to regular pastoral duties was becoming disagreeable to the pastors. Consequently, when Pastor Meyer left Immanuel in 1951 to do mission work among trailer settlements in Mississippi, the congregation decided to drop from its next call the request that the pastor teach school. With this decision the congregation closed the doors of a school which it had operated since 1873.

Nebraska gave Immanuel the Rev. E. Walter Bellmann as its pastor in 1952 after a vacancy of more than nine months. Pastor Bellmann supervised the revision of the constitution and began the Ladies Aid Society. On

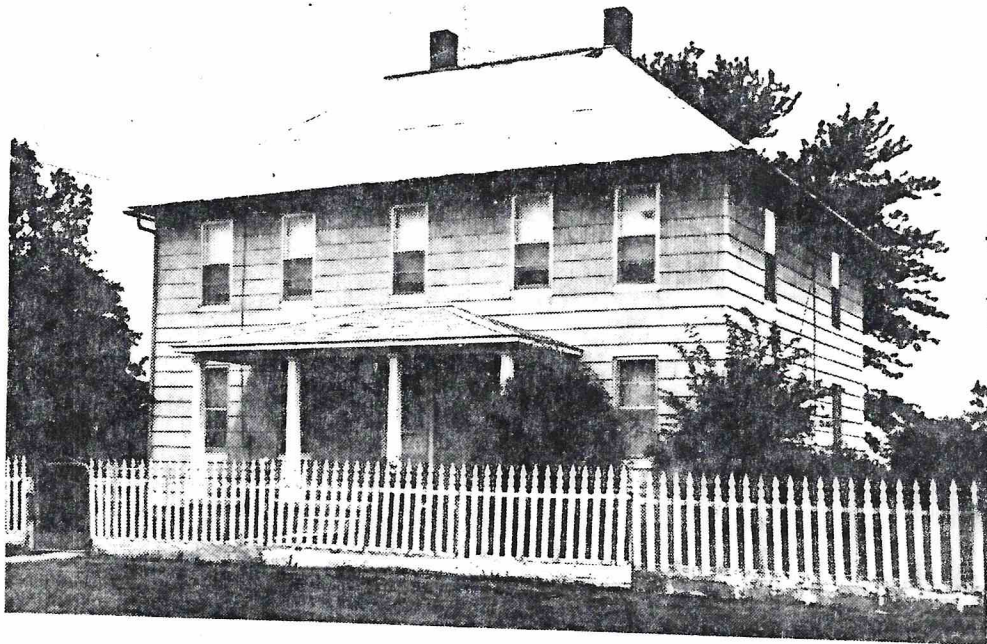

REV. E. WALTER BELLMANN

September 17, 1952, sixteen ladies of Immanuel, Lost Prairie and Trinity, Conant met with Pastor Bellmann to form the Ladies Aid Society. By making and selling apple butter, holding chicken fries and bake sales, the ladies managed to render great service to the congregation and the church at large. Among their many contributions were storm windows and kitchen cabinets for the parsonage and money for the purchase of a new organ. They gathered, packaged and sent needed materials to missionaries, and they sewed materials for the Lutheran World Relief. They made and donated altar cloths which still beautify Immanuel's altar, pulpit and lectern and they donated the picture received and accepted a second call from Zion congregation in Hillsboro, Missouri. He preached his farewell sermon January 24, 1965.

REV. CARL BENNING

By this time Zion congregation of Pinckneyville had been vacant for nearly half a year, and so discussion began in earnest on the consideration of the formation of a multiple parish. March 14, 1965, Immanuel, Trinity and Zion Lutheran congregations signed an agreement uniting them in a multiple parish. Under this agreement the three congregations together called for a pastor, set his salary at $425 a month with a $75 a month car allowance, and entered the Missouri Synod's new retirement and welfare plans for pastors and teachers.

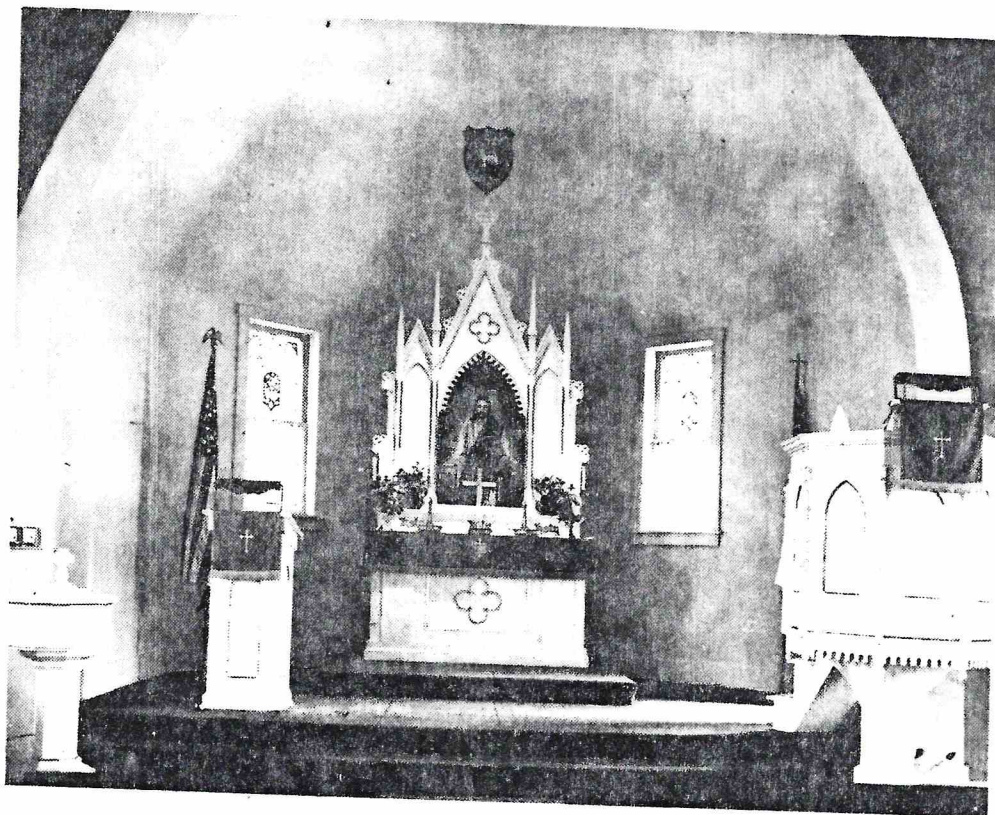

Calls were extended and calls were returned. But at long last candidate Carl Heidel was assigned to the three congregations, and on December 19, 1965 he was installed as pastor. The course of Immanuel's history had now run a full cycle, for strangely enough Pastor Heidel's wife, Charlotte nee Strasen, was the great granddaughter of the Rev. John Doermann who helped organize Immanuel in 1867, and the great niece of the Rev. C. Strasen who served Immanuel as vacancy pastor early in its history.

One hundred years of God's grace. For this Immanuel offers thanks and sings the praises of the Father and the Son and the Holy Ghost. Stepping into an uncharted future, the congregation walks in the faith of its fathers, singing the ancient hymn of the Christian church... "We praise thee, O God; We acknowledge thee to be the Lord."
